Total Fours / Year

Total Sixes / Year

- Shubman Gill and Faf du Plessis emerge as the top scorers over the past three years.
- In 2021, Ruturaj Gaikwad led the charts, while Jos Buttler dominated in 2022, and Shubman Gill claimed the top spot in 2023.
- Shubman, Ruturaj, Jos, and Faf du Plessis stand out as the only four batsmen positioned in the top right quadrant of the scatter chart of strike rate and batting average.
- While Andre Russell boasts the highest number of boundaries in his total runs, it's evident that Yashasvi Jaiswal has scored comparably and maintained a similar boundary percentage.

 - The leading wicket-takers for each year are as follows: Harshal Patel in 2021, Yuzvendra Chahal in 2022, and Mohammed Shami in 2023.
 - Andre Russell stands out for his exceptional bowling performance, having taken each wicket after conceding only 18 runs, boasting the best bowling average. Yuzvendra Chahal follows closely with an average of 20 runs per wicket.
 - Sunil Narine emerges as the most economical bowler, despite having a lower wicket count compared to others.
 - Both Mohammed Siraj and Mohammed Shami have an impressive record of bowling dot balls, accounting for 48% of their total deliveries.

- When combining the data from all three years into one points table, CSK emerges as the top team with 50 points, followed by RCB, GT, and RR.
 - However, it's important to note that GT and LSG only participated in the 2022 and 2023 seasons, making it unfair to judge them based on three years of data alone.
 - Therefore, a separate points table is created for the combined years of 2022 and 2023, where GT, LSG, RCB, and RR emerge as the top teams.
 - CSK maintains a winning percentage of 56% across the three years, solidifying its position among the top teams. The top four teams, accordingly, should be CSK, RCB, GT, and RR.
 - In terms of the winner and runner-up, CSK is predicted to clinch the title, given its consistent performance and high winning percentage over the three years. GT, with its notable achievements in the two years it participated, is expected to secure the runner-up position.
